Shane Victorino, MLB's Philadelphia Phillies All-Star Centerfielder and 2008 World Series Champion, and his wife, Melissa founded the Shane Victorino Foundation in March 2010 to promote opportunities for underserved youth in Philadelphia and Hawaii by engaging in projects which provide children with educational, recreational and wellness programs.

In Shane's native Hawaii, the Foundation will fund projects and programs which carry out the mission of providing opportunities to underserved children. One example is an after-school program, offering children educational and physical fitness activities. The curriculum provides the benefits of support and mentoring, such as increasing youth's self-esteem and self-worth and improved ability to make positive choices, while subsequently reducing high-risk behaviors. In the past two years, Shane raised more than $250,000 for the Hawaii Children's Foundation and Alzheimer's Association Aloha Chapter during his annual Shane Victorino Celebrity Golf Classic in Maui.

The Foundation recently pledged $900,000 to Boys & Girls Clubs of Philadelphia to renovate their over 100- year-old Nicetown unit, located in an impoverished area of the city. Upon the club's reopening next year, it will be renamed the "Shane Victorino Nicetown Boys & Girls Club." The Foundation plans to do a similar project in Hawaii within the next few years.
